

For Immediate Release

On May 1st, 2024, John Petrachek and the Atlas-Apex Group of Companies in partnership with Steve Schaefer, an Amp Energy executive, made a significant move by purchasing 100% of Amp Energy's Canadian business. This transaction marks a pivotal moment in the company's history.

The Canadian business, which plays a crucial role in the energy sector, now operates under the name Amp Net Zero, reflecting its commitment to sustainable energy solutions.

We collaborate with a diverse array of utilities and commercial & industrial customers across both Canada and the US, creating comprehensive decarbonization roadmaps and spearheading the drive towards net-zero emissions. Our commitment extends beyond just creating plans; we actively engage in the implementation of these strategies, ensuring that each step taken is in line with the overarching goal of sustainability and environmental responsibility.

Through our extensive experience and expertise, we have become a trusted partner in the journey towards a greener future. Sustainability is at the very core of our business. We are committed to enabling a net-zero future through innovative solutions that reduce environmental impact while delivering operational excellence.

Our comprehensive offerings empower organizations to significantly decrease emissions and costs. Sustainability extends far beyond clean energy deployment; it is integrated across our operations, supply chain practices, and full project lifecycles. From ethical sourcing and waste reduction to carbon offsets and community investment, we are committed to environmental stewardship and corporate responsibility. We strive to create meaningful change by building renewable infrastructure that not only meets today's needs but also paves the way for a more sustainable future.

Our dedication is evident in every project we undertake, as we aim to leave a lasting positive impact on the environment and society. For more detailed information about this acquisition and the company's future plans, visit www.ampnetzero.com.
